DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to Pope Francis, who said that “the Big Bang is an act of love from God”. (SudOuest.fr Published 10/29/2014).

"Man is born pure, it is up to society to make him perfect."

Flavien PHANZU MWAKA

Epigraphy

If reason seems to contradict faith, the problem is not the Divine, but the interpretation of that faith. “Also, when a truth is scientifically demonstrable, he who knows it only as an opinion, for a reason that is only plausible, does not understand it”.

(Saint Thomas d’Aquin)

Acknowledgment

We thank all those who were surprised to find their names in this book through their various statements in documentaries, conferences and some articles on the net. We apologize to them and reassure them that some of their comments have been quoted only as testimony and evidence.

In the same vein, I would also like to thank Professor GUBARIKA of the National Pedagogical University of the DRC, and Father MBUMBA PHANZU, director of the Pedagogical Research Center, who, in spite of their multiple occupations, have agreed to reread this work and to make amendments.

I also thank Mr. Patrick Kunyimba; director of Exibook, who turned my dreams into reality by agreeing to publish my first book.

Finally, I would like to thank The Bible societies which these do not hold against me making the verses read directly to my readers rather than paraphrasing them or referring them to a book. In science, it's like stopping the engine and stepping out to open the hood. We used the Louis Segond version and the King James version
