DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to Moon couple who awakened in me the ideal of perfection. May he bless it and accept it with all their imperfections.

"Man is born pure, it is up to society to make him perfect."

Flavien PHANZU MWAKA

Epigraphy

“Perfection cannot be reached in ignorance state. One must understand the truth in order to be able to go to the kingdom of God on earth. True Parents have revealed the truth... However, there are still people who live they were many millennia years ago”.

Ms. Hak Ja Han Moon: TruePeace N ° 8, January 2015 Pp 6-7.

Acknowledgment

I thank all the promoters of the websites who allowed me to deepen and verify my knowledge to produce this book, without sometimes mentioning the source or the authorization of their authors. Some of these great sites include FuturaScience.com, Wikipedia, Encarta, Trustmyscience.com and many more. We also thank all those who are surprised to find their names in this book through their various statements in documentaries, conferences and certain articles on the net. We apologize to them while reassuring that some of their comments were only quoted as testimony and not as arguments. For, everything that is written here is the product of the heart, for God only communicates with us through our heart, which signifies our spirit according to the Holy Scriptures.

I would also like to thank Mr Augustin MABWONO MUKWAMA Anguishi of the School of Translation and Interpretation of the National Pedagogical University of Kinshasa/DRC for his proof reading in English despite all his other activities. However, the translation from French to English has caused the text to lose some of its content. This is due to the translators' unfamiliarity with scientific language and even religion. Thus, any future translation must refer to the original text, i.e. the French version.

Finally, I would like to thank The Bible societies which these do not hold against me making the verses read directly to my readers rather than paraphrasing them or referring them to a book. In science, it's like stopping the engine and stepping out to open the hood. We used the Louis Segond version and the King James version.

PEAMBULE

In the French version, the first and second parts are one book. But afterwards I considered it too voluminous for a book on cosmology which calls for a lot of effort of understanding and self-sacrifice on the part of the reader. Thus, in the English version, and in other versions that will follow, the first part will only include the introduction to the before big-bang.

In this first part we prepare scientists to understand biblical language and non-scientists to understand scientific language. This is what we are going to do up to chapter V. The point concerning the before Big-bang, will only be dealt with from chapter VI onwards.

Until then, researchers have speculated about the before Big-bang. But, having discovered it in the first cosmological book, i.e. the Bible, and in the writings of the ancient philosophers, with all the great ensembles that characterised this period, I thus become the first godfather of this discovery.

From now on, all the theories that will be built on the pre-Big-bang and that will not take into account one of these biblical and ancient components will only be a slip. This will be confirmed after the development of this volume in the other volumes.

This gave birth to the Universal Cosmological Model which is the scientific restitution of the scheme of creation as contained in the book of Biblical Genesis. We will come back to it later.

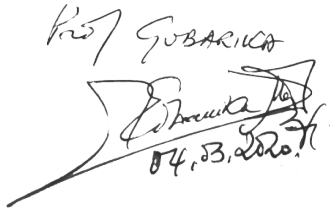

THE AUTHOR

PREFACE

Good research works with undeniable religious, scientific and cultural depth. The field covered is tough and defensible in the light of reliable material evidence. This text should be published as a trial balloon for readers unfamiliar with cosmological material combined with biblical evidence.

I would like the publication to be partial (3 or 4 volumes) in successive editions and not all at once because of the rigidity of the addressed material.

Once again thank you and good luck!
